Lisa Cherniak
Artists Against Racism

With admiration, I write to you Lisa,

I love the way Artists Against Racism has always worked so passionately to share peace with the world, and spread the message of equality, through such powerful public education campaigns, for over twenty-five years! This is in tune with the symphony that is always playing on this precious Earth, and it's encouraging love and tolerance.

It is a very profound and important message, and one that resonates with my own heart.

My parents were civil rights activists in America's movement, and marched with Dr. Martin Luther King many times. My late father also promoted Gandhi to my sisters and me, since we were small children, and it's all part of my belief systems and efforts today. These anti-racist and anti-classist seeds were planted in our young hearts, able to flourish and grow along with us.

As an adult, and having a career in the performing arts, I have been able to authentically live my truth and share my own ideas about this world, which remains a simple "LOVE ALL, SERVE ALL" message. Hate has no place in the world, and I stand with you, to work toward a tolerant and compassionate, anti-hate, anti-racist world that empowers and encourages all people.

I am grateful for the inspiration and solidarity, from and with, Artists Against Racism, and feel honoured to know you, stand side by side with you, and feel the urgent need to help share the Artists Against Racism message.

In gratitude and service,

Bif Naked
